The Canadian Pacific Railway.

It is a matter of regret that in a scheme involving so vast an expenditure of money as the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, capitalists should deem it necessary to organize themselves into rival companies for the purpose of gaining the exclusive control of an enterprise of sufficient magnitude to tax not only the utmost resources of all the capitalists in the country, but therewith the entire credit of the Dominion. We gather from our Eastern exchanges that the Dominion Government are desirous that these rival companies should come to some arrangement by which they should combine their energies and resources, and on the principle that in union there is strength, ensure the commencement of the work with the least possible delay. It is understood that the Government have resolved to withhold a charter from either company for the present, in hope that a compromise may be effected between them, and that by a combination of interests and capital such a company may be organized as will place the speedy accomplishment of the enterprise beyond the region of doubt. In this we think the Government are acting in the interest of the Dominion, and we would fain hope the object they have in view may be crowned with success. A late number of the Canadian Freeman, a leading Ontario paper, has a well-written article on this subject, which we transfer to our columns, being assured it will be perused with interest by our British Columbia readers. The writer says: "The Canadian Pacific Railway and the probable direction in which the contract will go, have formed a staple topic of conversation for some weeks. It is generally understood that there has been some "hitch". Two companies were incorporated last session, with either of whom, or both combined, the Government could deal or, if it were found desirable, it could incorporate a third, distinct from either of them and deal with it. The two companies failed to amalgamate within the time allowed, and they also failed to dissolve for the purpose of having a new one constructed wholly or partly out of their debris. It is understood that the prospect of union is as distant as ever; and as the Government could not possibly deal with one to the exclusion of the other, and of all the rest of the world, it follows that some third course will have to be found. What will that course be? What ought it be? We believe there is nothing left but to throw the stock open to the public with the restriction, perhaps, against it being participated in by any who have adverse interests, such as the Northern Pacific Company or contractors of the United States. Such a step would remove the present embarrassment and prevent criticism which might otherwise have a telling effect. It would be necessary to take precautions that would ensure the stock being taken by bona fide capitalists. We have in past times, seen men put their name down for hundreds of thousands of pounds on the stock lists of railway companies, whose resources were barely adequate to the payment of their grocers bills. Unless there be a sufficient bona fide capital, this gigantic enterprise will collapse, at the outset; and any financial failure now would cover the scheme with discredit during half the lifetime of a generation. To deal with one company with inadequate resources would be certain to lead to disaster. The works would be unduly drawn upon for an undertaking which it would, under any circumstances, be dangerous for them to undertake to "finance." The capital they advanced, drawn from the legitimate channels of commerce, would become locked up, and almost certainly imperilled. The very fact that they had made such advances to any considerable extent would create a feeling of uneasiness, which might develop the most serious consequences. A weak company would bring other evils in its train, and all companies are weak which cannot plank a sufficient capital without its individual members having recourse to bank loans. Flash names are of no value without this essential requisite. One of the resources of any company must necessarily be the lands which the Dominion is to give in aid of the work; but any premature issue of bonds on the basis of the lands would endanger the success of the whole enterprise. The lands will derive their value from the road; and the use of bonds cannot precede that which will give them their value. There must be a considerable section of road built before it will be safe for the company to issue any bonds. Therefore there is no certain success without a large stock capital. To attempt to float a scheme like this on borrowed capital and a premature issue of bonds would be to damn it, and could only be characterized in terms conveying the severest reprobation. We hope the Government will shake itself clear of cliques and wire pullers; that it will put the stock fairly and squarely on the market, and insist on its being of such amount and accompanied by such conditions as will prevent bogus subscriptions looking to a monopoly. The charge of favoritism or exclusive dealing will not then be; the whole public will have a fair chance. There is no fear of too much being subscribed, or of those who think themselves entitled to participate being excluded. Every one can be accommodated, in a company whose capital may legally range as high as $100,000, with all the stock he can pay for. Very little, it is known by trial test, will be subscribed in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and the same will be found true of British Columbia. The bona fide capitalists of Ontario can be accommodated with all the stock they want, and we suspect there would still be some to spare."

Christmas Goods.—By next steamer, Turner, Beeton and Tunstall will receive a very choice lot of Fancy Goods, for Christmas and New Year's presents; and real Seal Skin and other Jackets, of latest styles. *

The Water.

We very recently were compelled to complain of the obnoxious and inferior quality of the gas supplied to this city, and we regret that we have as yet failed to notice any marked improvement in this necessary commodity. Now, however, constant and emphatic complaints reach us with respect to the unpalatable and malodorous state of the water which most of our citizens are of necessity obliged to use. The water is not simply offensive in smell, but most disagreeable in taste, and unfit for sundry manufacturing purposes. If there is any filter used previous to the water passing into the mains, it must be sadly out of order, and in a foul condition, and the sooner this or any other defect is remedied, the better it will be for the health and general good of consumers. Pure water, or water as nearly pure as possible, is one of the greatest desiderata, but we feel confident that an analytical examination of that at present being supplied, would prove it not only pregnant with impurities, but decidedly injurious to good health.

MAIL CONTRACT.—The game of men of straw with securities made of men of straw putting in tenders for contracts does not merely apply to the New Westminster Court House, but to the Cariboo-Yale mail contract. A correspondent brings under our notice the case of a party who has tendered for this contract in the interest of another, for $14,000 per year,—with two miners for securities who have not five thousand dollars altogether. This kind of bogus, fraudulent tendering ought to be put down; and the tenders given out to the lowest tenderer who gives good security. For it would be gross injustice to invite bona fide contractors to tender and yet allow one of the latter class to benefit by the effrontery of his man of straw, whilst other bona fide contractors were entitled to the advantage. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE services yesterday in the new Cathedral were largely attended; some no doubt expected that something would be said with regard to the sermon of Thursday evening. The Bishop in the morning preached from the words, "The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up." The Rev. Mr. Jenns, in the afternoon, chose his text from 1st Corinthians, 3rd chap., "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." And the Dean, in the evening, took for his text, the 20th verse of the 18th chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel, "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." We understand that indirect allusion was made by two of the preachers in the course of their discourses, to the sermon of the Archdeacon.

FARMER'S CLUB.—A meeting of the Farmer's Club was held at the office of Messrs. Drake & Jackson, on Saturday last, for the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following are the names of the gentlemen chosen: President, Wm. Dalby; Vice Presidents, William Thompson, of Saanich, and Henry Cogan, M.P.P., of Esquimalt; Secretary, Thos. Russell; Treasurer, E. H. Jackson, Cedar Hill. Board of Directors—Doctor Tolmie, H. Mitchell, R. Brown, Thos. Allsop, R. Porter, Wm. Baines, James Todd, George Deane, and George Lindsay. The annual show for the coming year is already a theme of interest with the various members of the club, and from the healthy state of the finance department, there is every probability of its being a complete success.

FOX BUTE INLET.—Mr. Marcus Smith, Chief Engineer of the British Columbian section of the Canadian Pacific Railway Survey, and Mr. John McLennan of the Commissariat Department, leave here to-morrow morning per the steamer Douglas, to inspect and superintend the return of the Bute Inlet survey parties X and Y. We understand that the lines of survey are complete, and that Mr. Smith does not go up to pursue any additional work.

NANOOSE SETTLEMENT, which lies on the coast a little north of Nanaimo, is quiet, and shares in the prosperity which characterises the various agricultural settlements of the Province. Two claims have been taken up at Northwest Bay, within the past few weeks; one by Mr. H. Graves, the other by Mr. F. Thrupe. A general search is being prosecuted for homesteads along the coasts of the island, and the interior as well.

THE WEATHER.—On Saturday night a downward tendency of the barometer warned us of a coming change in the weather, and yesterday morning a drenching rain of some hours' duration verified the prophecy. We can hardly expect a continuation of the splendid weather we have had during the past week, for the winter season is rapidly advancing, and hoary headed Xmas will soon be with us once again.

MASONIC.—The Grand Lodge of British Columbia was in session on Saturday evening, and the sister lodges of the Province were well represented. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: R. W. Powell, M.W.G.M.; R. Burnaby, D.G.M.; M. W. Waitt, Treasurer; H. F. Heisterman, Secretary; P. Hall, O.G. The installation will take place this evening.

DIRECT STEAMER.—The agents here, Messrs. Brodrick & Co., received a telegram on Saturday from Mr. Bermingham, stating that the Idaho left for this port on Friday the 6th, with forty passengers and two hundred tons of freight. She had been in the dry dock.

AUCTION SALE.—Messrs. J. P. Davies & Co. will sell to-day at their salesrooms, Wharf street, a large assortment of agricultural implements, household furniture, and other useful articles. Our farmers will doubtless meet with some good bargains at this sale.

FOR NANAIMO.—The steamer Maude left the harbor for Nanaimo at 7 o'clock on Saturday morning, taking up the mail and a few passengers. Amongst the latter we noticed Mr. and Mrs. McGhivis, Mrs. Frazier, and Mr. Robson, M.P.P.

DECLINED.—Mr. Dewdney, M.P., has declined the office of Surveyor General, offered to him by the local Government,—and rumor has it that Mr. Hunter, M.P.P., will again be offered the situation. If so, an election will take place in Cariboo.

FOR THE EAST COAST.—The steamer Sir James Douglas leaves here to-morrow morning at 7 o'clock, for Nanaimo, Comox, and way ports.

POLITICAL.—The member for Nanaimo went up on Saturday, and would address his constituents same evening.

Cariboo Mining Intelligence.

[BY TELEGRAPH]

BARKERVILLE, Dec. 7.—From the Sentinel of to-day we learn the following:

WILLIAM CREEK—The Forest Rose, Ballarat and McPherson Cos. have washed up their ground with very good results.

LOWER CREEK—The Black Bull Co. are rocking under ground with fair success, considering the difficulties under which they labor. The Victoria and Brown Cos. are making good wages, the latter rocking. The Calaveras are driving ahead with their tunnel.

JACK OF CLUBS CREEK.—The Discovery Co. cleaned up 22 oz. last week, without having cleaned the bed rock, and consequently expect a big wash up this week. The Two Sisters cleaned up 59½ oz. for last week, but on Monday last the gudgeon of their wheel broke from some unexplained cause, consequently this week they are not working below. The Two Brothers are going to run their tailrace ahead to find clay.

LIGHTNING CREEK—The Van Winkle Co. continue running their drain. The Vancouver Co. have their pump in position, and are commencing to dry. The Gladstone Co. are drifting for the channel; their ground is wet and troublesome. The Eleven of England Co. are about getting a new pump, the present one not raising sufficient water. The Manitoba Co. are blasting over the falls. The Perseverance Co. washed up 28 oz. last week. The Foster Co. are down about 30 ft. in the rock.

FELL & Co., General Grocers, have for sale the greatest variety of Nuts, Fruits, Bon Bons and Confections for Christmas, of any establishment in the city, which will be sold cheap.

GRAIN.—Farmers on Saturday experienced much difficulty in procuring two cents per lb for oats. They say the imposition of the Canadian tariff makes a difference, and a loss to them of $15 per load.

FRED. FINCH, formerly purser of the Puget Sound and Victoria steam line, died in San Francisco a few days ago.

THE Peterel will most probably leave for Nanaimo to-morrow, to be beached for repair.

DUE.—The steamer Idaho from San Francisco is due here on Wednesday next.

The Prerogative in British Columbia.

[Toronto Globe.]

It is impossible but that some inconveniences must occasionally arise from the present isolated position of British Columbia in relation to the seat of the Federal Government. We lately pointed out one instance in which the mismanagement of the latter had served to prolong the journey from Ottawa to Victoria; and the inertness of the officials at the former city adds to the mischief. The complaints to which we have now to refer arise out of matters under the direction of the Minister of Justice, whose habits of procrastination are notorious. So that what is unavoidably an evil from geographical causes, becomes an aggravated one from administrative inefficiency. The Victoria STANDARD is the local paper which calls attention to the want of local authority under the new regime to deal with cases of extradition or those of persons lying under sentence of death.

Some four months ago a man convicted of highway robbery escaped from prison in Washington Territory and reached Victoria. There he was overtaken by the Sheriff, and lodged in gaol with a view to his extradition. But, says the STANDARD: "The law required that unless a person so held in durance be removed within two months from the date of his arrest by the authorities claiming the custody of the alleged offender, it shall be competent for his attorney to make application for and obtain his discharge."

The Lieutenant-Governor had no jurisdiction; the subject was referred to Ottawa, and at the end of four months the prisoner's attorney applied for and obtained his release. No mention is made of the examination of the accused at Victoria. We assume that he had been tried before a local judge, and that, on the finding of that functionary, the order for his extradition was applied for at Ottawa. Of course, if once the case of the parties seeking his extradition is made out, there should be no possibility of his escape pending a reference to the Governor-General. There are obvious reasons why great care should be exercised in respect of extradition cases, but, that secured, the law should be allowed to take its course without vexatious impediments. If there be any defect in the law that prevents the courts in British Columbia from acting in the premises, the sooner it is remedied the better; but that is not what we understand to be the grievance in this instance. If four months were lost in referring to Ottawa, there must have been scandalous remissness somewhere. Half of that time should have been sufficient for the performance of any merely formal duties in connection with such a case. No law will make dilatory an incompetent Ministers act with energy and promptness; but so far as the delay arises from unavoidable causes it would be easy—always presuming there is proper local machinery for investigating the extradition claim—to abolish the limitation of the prisoner's subsequent confinement pending the completion of the proceedings required by the law, or to extend it for a term amply sufficient for communicating with the Central Government. Seeing that these cases are of an international character, it may be better so far as possible to throw the responsibility of their ultimate decision on the Federal rather than the Local Executive.

The other difficulty referred to by the STANDARD is of a purely domestic nature. In the beginning of June last a man named Bell was tried for murder at Nanaimo and sentenced to death. The case was one that excited a great deal of sympathy with the convict, and a general wish was expressed, by petition to the Governor General, for his repreive. Here again it took four months to obtain a reply from Ottawa, and then the answer received was to the effect that the law must take its course.

"But," says the STANDARD, "the absurdity of the present system does not lie in this fact. Bell is as good as dead, but yet he lives. * * * *

Here again we are at a loss to understand how the affair should have become so complicated. The sentence of the judge pronounced orally in the presence of the sheriff is all the warrant needed for execution under the British judicial system. The Crown interposes its prerogative of mercy to stay execution or commute the penalty, but it is the law, of which the Court is the exponent, that is responsible for the sentence. So that if Bell waits for a death-warrant under the Great Seal of the Dominion, we imagine he will wait long. Possibly an interpretation of the dilemma may be found in the fact that, execution having been ordered for a certain day, and that day having passed, no other was fixed in the reply to the application for a reprieve. Happily, in the present case, the error is on the side of safety, although a long period of tantalizing suspense is hardly consistent with modern ideas of humanity.

To avoid a fatal miscarriage of justice, it would seem almost essential that either the Judge or the Lieutenant-Governor, acting under the advice of the Judge who has tried the case, or the Bench of pending communication with Ottawa. So long as the law enacts death as a penalty there will be a tendency in nearly every case, to plead for mitigation of sentence, and to urge consideration favourable to leniency on the Executive. And it is most important that the decision on such appeals should be as calm, deliberate, and judicial in its character as possible and free from mere popular or personal influence. This points, then to the retention of the prerogative in the hands of the Federal authority. On the other hand, at such an immense distance it is difficult to institute enquiries and to interchange communications with the judges with the promptness that the case requires. Again, if the law is to be effectual a very long delay in carrying out the sentence always lessens its influence on the public mind, and invites those very efforts to unsettle the verdict of the Court we have been adverting to. Probably the pros and cons are pretty evenly balanced, and the subject is one to be gravely considered before any action is taken in the direction of the change. Meantime the STANDARD is quite right in assailing the "slow-coaches" at Ottawa, who seem to be as tardy in hanging or extraditing criminals in British Columbia as they are in carrying mails, or—now the elections are over—setting about local improvements.

[Ottawa Times.]

Once upon a time the managing director of the Globe knew that the Hon. John A. Macdonald could do just what was right. In fact "John A." was one of the greatest of men; and reaching up to his shoulder or thereabouts was the Hon. G. E. Cartier, a very pink of perfection in the estimation of the Globe. But these days have passed. In 1864 it was true, indeed, that Mr. Macdonald was a very wonderful statesman; he had George Brown sitting in council with him, and he had some other things as well as George Brown, which, we believe, he has since dispensed with. It was amusing that "John A." should have fallen when George Brown left him. Up at Toronto there are still a few of the faithful who believe the Fates made a superlative blunder in not crushing Sir John the moment he parted company with the Hon. George Brown. But it seems that the Canadian people, as well as the authorities, have been blind to the change. In fact they have acted toward Sir John as if the Hon. George had not made him at all.

Under these circumstances the melancholy case of the non-extradited felon in British Columbia assumes very serious proportions in the eyes of the Globe. The case is one which is liable to occur wherever nature has established long distances, and art has failed to bridge them with quick means of intercommunication. The administration of justice as a governmental department, appears to Mr. Blake to be entirely too strict; to the Globe it is absolutely dilatory. Which of the authorities are are to be believed?

Hotels and their Profits.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune furnishes the following:

Some days ago I met Mr. A. H. Haskins, a widely-known room-clerk, whose experience is probably equal to any one of his avocation. In a communicative moment, at Williard's, he gave me the following figures as to the profits of the leading hotels of the East. I took them down at the time, and believed them to be as nearly correct as anything of the sort obtainable.

Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York—Rent $200,000, not inclusive of stores beneath it; profits, $500,000—the greatest business in America of the character. Twenty years ago the ground was offered for ninety-nine years for $500 per annum.

Metropolitan Hotel, New York—Rent at present $105,000. Just resuming and recovering from young Tweed's management.

St. Nicholas Hotel, New York—Rent $87,000; annual profits rising $178,000. Hewlett, the proprietor, has leased the new Windsor Hotel, Fifth avenue.

Continental Hotel, Philadelphia—Rent $80,000; profits above $75,000.

Grand Central Hotel, New York—Very cheap rent—said to be the cheapest for the opportunities—only $65,000; profits $150,000.

Astor House, New York—Rent $75,000. Very successful on the European plan. Profits $55,000.

New York Hotel, New York—Rent $60,000. Profits $90,000, being full of Southerners all Summer.

Parker House, Boston—Owned by the proprietor. Profits $125,000.

Gilsey House, New York—Enormous rent, $86,000. Profits $40,000.

Hoffman House, New York—Profits $75,000.

Arlington Hotel, Washington—Rent $40,000. Profits $75,000.

The following hotels clear $50,000 per annum, Breevoort, Clarendon, Frenchs New York; Tailor's Jersey City (does the largest business in the United States); Cataract House, Niagara Falls.

The Grand Lodge of Canada seems to have a lively time before her. Not satisfied with the quarrels with the Grand Lodge of Quebec and Vermont, she has managed by her haughtiness to estrange Nevada also, as will be seen by the following resolutions adopted last September by the last named:

Resolved, That until such time as the letter of R. W. Bro. Harris, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Canada, be withdrawn, or if the Grand Lodge of Canada has taken such action as warrants such letter on the part of its Grand Secretary, such action shall be rescinded, that all friendly intercourse between the two jurisdictions shall cease.

Resolved, That the Grand Master recall the commission issued to Bro. Thomas White as grand representative of the Grand Lodge near the Grand Lodge of Canada.

Resolved, That the Grand Secretary forward a certified copy of this report and resolutions to the Grand Lodge of Canada, with the request that the subject matter be amicably discussed with a view to a speedy settlement of the difficulty.—Exchange.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

EDITOR STANDARD:—In your leading article of a few days since, when commenting on the lumbering interests of the Province, you inadvertently fell into an error respecting the name of the Douglas pine. This beautiful spruce fir was named in honor of Mr. David Douglas, through whose exertions in 1826, whilst acting as the botanical collector to the Royal Horticultural Society of London, it was, with many other ornamental kinds of pines and firs, first introduced into England.

I. C. M.

[If our correspondent will refer to the article alluded to, he will find we merely quoted the remarks of the Toronto Globe.—ED.]

Letter from Archdeacon Reece.

VICTORIA, Dec. 6th, 1872.

EDITOR STANDARD:—I am quite sure that it could not have been your intention to misrepresent me in your comment on my sermon of Thursday evening, and therefore I feel confident that you will allow me to speak for myself, so that the words that I used may be concealed as extensively as the comment you have made.

In speaking of my sermon you say, "The reverend preacher strongly impressed upon his hearers the necessity of Ritualism in the church, and warmly advocated the Ritualistic Doctrine."

The object of my sermon was to show that adoration was the spontaneous act of the soul, quickened with spiritual life through communion with God. That this spirit of adoration of necessity found an expression for itself in the outward forms and decencies of Divine Worship. That whenever there had been a quickening of this spiritual life, and, consequently of this spirit of adoration, there had been a corresponding revival, not only in reverential carefulness in conducting Divine Service, but also in the outward expression of the inward belief of the worshipper. That herein, was to be found the true meaning and explanation of Ritualism. It had revived within the Church of England in our own day. This cannot be denied. It is continuing to revive. This cannot be denied. Here is a religious phenomenon to be thoughtly accounted for, and I try to account for it and show its hidden foundation. I now subjoin that portion of my sermon which has been so painfully misunderstood; it embodies the thoughts and many of the expressions of one whom I have learnt to reverence and which I gladly make my own:—

"And here we may see the true meaning and explanation of Ritualism. It is a shallow view of a deep and important subject to stigmatise it as formalism, or love of display or the gratification of religious taste. It springs from the vivid belief in the near presence of God, and is the instinctive expression of the devout soul to approach that presence in suitable form. It is the finite drawing near to the infinite. The creature approaching the Creator. If our service was one of mere instruction, and man only its object, then there would be no place for Ritualism—there would be no meaning in it, and so in the service of the Synagogue, which was merely a service of instruction, there was no Ritualism; but in the Temple there was Ritualism because God was especially present and man was there adoring the Mysterious presence. So in the services of the Church Catholic—they are the continuation of the Temple service, not that of the Synagogue. The celebration of the Holy Eucharist is the one central service of the Christian Church as it is the one one especially enjoined by her Divine Head. The adoration and feeding upon Christ therein present is her chiefest and highest act of worship. The daily service of song morning and evening shaped itself and came after and grew out of Eucharistic. They circled round it. They sprang out of it. They again flowed back into it. In anticipation they prepared the soul for it, and the soul strengthened and refreshed by it expressed itself in acts of praise and thanksgiving. This Ritualism became a necessity in the Catholic Church as it was a necessity in the Jewish Temple, and for the same reason, for it springs as I have said from the vivid belief and the near and especial presence of God, and is the instinctive expression of the soul to clothe itself in approaching that mysterious and awful Presence in suitable outward form. Ritualism has revived in our branch of the Church Catholic in our day and it is the result, as with Israel of old, of renewed Spiritual life. There was a quickening of the Spiritual life of the chosen people consequent upon the revelation of God on Mount Sinai and the Ritualism of the Tabernacle was the direct outward expression of this life, and perhaps nothing in after ages surpassed the freshness of its symbolic beauty. The next great development of Ritualism was in the time of David, who organized the choirs of the Temple service; and here again we trace it as following upon a revival of spiritual life, for it followed after the commencement of the prophetical line in Samuel and of inspired Psalmody in David himself. So too, in our own day, the revival of Ritualism is the sequence of renewed Spiritual life—the outward expression of quickened Spiritual life—the outward expression of quickened Spiritual energy. The last century was marked as one of coldness, darkness, and unbelief in the English Church—an era apparently more hopelessly cheerless than anything to be found in these days of active thought and enquiry, with all its attendant evils of doubt and scepticism. Then through the gracious influence of the Holy Spirit there came a quickening of the spiritual life in the Church and a revival of those fundamental truths especially known as the doctrines of grace. When these had taken root and borne fruit, it pleased God to vouchsafe a second revival, in raising up teachers nearer our own time to unfold the more clearly the doctrine of the Sacraments and the life of the Incarnation. And when these combined had in some measure begun to produce their effects on the Spiritual life of the Church—the revival of Ritual became a necessity as it is the instinctive outward expression of this life, and manifested itself in the greater care that was exhibited in the ministration of the Church services as well as in the form, the costliness, and the adornment of her fabrics. Had the order of these revivals been reversed, it would have been fatal to the development of Spiritual life. Standing as it then would—alone, it would, like the spirit of Pharisaism,—it could only have been a formal show, destructive of all Spiritual energy. But it has not been so. Ritualism has revived because the inner life had first revived and needed an outward expression. The quickened sense of the Divine Presence and of worship, of adoration as the immediate approach to the Divine Presence needed to embody itself in some adequate outward form; these forms existed, fallen into disuetude to a great extent it is true, but recognized as the inheritance of ages. Their revival has met with obstacles, and awakened prejudice. But still the revival has steadily progressed, and is progressing. The obstacles have been and are only those needful for its healthy development, while the prejudices are those only characteristic of our nation, which is patient only with anything supposed to be novel in the worship of God, when it is seen to be the outward expression of real spiritual life and quickened spiritual energy. This renewed life, which is it is finding its outward form in the revival of Ritualism, will be its truest check. There will be no extremes in Ritualism in the English Church of any permanent character, so long as there is a fervent inner life to measure its truth and reality, as it first prompted its development."

I will only add a few condensed remarks:

1. You will see that I did not impress upon my hearers the necessity of Ritualism in the Church—but that Ritualism became a necessity, as outwardly expressing the spiritual life and energy of the worshipper.

2. I did not warmly advocate Ritualistic doctrine," for the simple reason that there is no such thing as Ritualistic doctrine. Ritual is the form and manner in which divine service is conducted, and becomes the natural channel through which the inward belief of the worshipper is visibly expressed.

I remain, Sir,
Yours truly,
WILLIAM S. REECE.

A FRIEND IN NEED!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

WONDERFUL CURE OF ASTHMA OF 18 YEARS STANDING

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Ferdinand Mc Devett Innkeeper & Grocer, Glenties, Co. Donegal, dated 4th March, 1861.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I suffered from asthma for 18 years, accompanied with great difficulty of breathing, and severe cough with expectoration of blood. I was also afflicted with Piles. At different times I was treated by most skilful physicians, and was at length pronounced by them to be beyond cure;—as a last resource, I was induced to use your Pills and Ointment, and in the short space of a fortnight could walk about, and am now perfectly cured, to the astonishment of all who knew me.

BLOOD TO THE HEAD WITH GIDDINESS.

Copy of a letter from Mrs. Mary Foster, Hæf Moon Street, Totness, dated March 16th 1861.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—For many years I suffered periodically headache, and giddiness in the head, to such a degree that at times I have scarcely been able to walk; after obtaining the best medical advice without effect, I tried your Pills and in less than a week I was completely cured. Mrs. Donnal, Chemist, of Totness, can vouch for the truth of the above statement.

COMPLAINTS OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

The very mild and painless action of these invaluable Pills, recommends them to every household as a remedy for the early departures from health. Any mother, nurse, or young person guided by the direction which accompany each box of Holloway's Pills, has at once available means for checking disease, qualifying the blood, and expelling from the system all gross humors. They are, indeed, at all ages, the tried females friend.

DISORDERS OF THE KIDNEYS & OTHER INTERNAL ORGANS.

Loss of appetite and flatulency are usually the forerunners of stomachic disease. These famous Pills exercise the most salutary power in all affections of the liver, and irregularities of the stomach and bowels; they restore a healthy function to every internal organ, overcome all obstructions, and cast out all impurities.

THE ACTION OF THE KIDNEYS & OTHER INTERNAL ORGANS

The immediate loss of muscular strength and nervous energy is more particularly remarkable in renal than in most other diseases. Their deficient action for one day suffices to produce fever, hence the necessity for prompt and efficient treatment. Holloway's Pills have the great merit of restoring any suspended or diminished secretion, and of relieving any inflammation or congestion in the spleen, kidneys, or other subsidiary organs.

The tight, suffocating, anxious feeling caused by derangement of the heart, makes the sufferer look on present death as imminent. Holloway's Pills prove an efficient and ready remedy when the disturbed circulation depends on indigestion flatulency, or debilitated nervous vigor. Persons suffering from disturbance of the heart should take about six of these Pills two or three times a week, according to circumstances, to arrest the too active action of the heart.

WEAKNESS, LANGUOR AND DEBILITY.

These famous Pills will immediately remove all symptoms of debility, langour and weakness as they act upon the main springs of life, and thus save thousands from premature grave

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:—
